QUEEN OF THE CENSUS OFFICE.-It has been many years since a woman wielded as much power, in a small way, as does Mrs. Kate Smith, known as Queen of the Census Office, who was recently requested to remove her home from the Esmere Hotel. Her fis d is small and her official status is not high, but no pury official dares to op-pose her. She is the second assistant chief of the eleventh division of the Census Office, which has charge of the sulficies of farms, loans, and and mortgages. Her salary is $1 600 a year. Sometime ago her immediate chief, the first assistant, incurred her en ipathy, and there was a struggle between the two as to which should be victorious. The first assistant resigned. She comes and goes whenever she likes, and is not restricted in this respect by the stringent in'e which is apposed to be enforced against all. This rale was issued by the Secretary of the Interior, with the injunction that there should be no favoritism, and that all should he kept down to the regular office hours, of from nine to four. The watchman in charge of this particular division adhered faithfully to these instructions, and consequently Mrs. Emitth's name often appeared among the delinquents and absentees. This fact eventually came to the notice of the Secretary, who complained sharply of this infraction of the rules of the bureau. Mrs Smith did not like this noto-icty, but still did not want to have her free-dom restrained. Accordingly she remon-strated with the dutiful watchman in her capacity of second assistant chief, but her re-monstrance was ineffectual. Finally there monstrance was ineffectual. Finally there was a grand fiste-up between the two, and Mrs. Smith appealed to her chief. She was listened to, and the watchman was aummarily removed to another branch of the service, and by a special dispensation she remains unmolested so far as her coming and going are concerned. She has been universally dubbed the "Queen of the Census Office," and her influence with the chief officers of that burean is the subject of much comment. It is reported that she comes comment. It is reported that she comes from New York, but her political backing is

THE EDUCATION OF GIRLS -It is mainan able writer in the Saturday Review, that the standard of girls' education, whether in eecondary or elementary schoola, has been placed unduly high, and the facts brought forward in support of this position seem to be beyond dispute. There are several reasons why the danger should be greater for girls than it is for boys. In the first place, the brain power in girls is developed earlier and is stimulated by a greater degree of nervous energy. A very emischool teachers and school managers, says er degree of nervous e that to each thing that they aim at they bring twice the amount of eagerness that men bring. Unfortunately, in spite of all that the advocates of the eagerness that men bring. Unfortunately, in spite of all that the advocates of the equality of the sexes can say, women are not the sovela of more than a sexes can say. the equals of men as regards physical strength; and when they try to do the same amount of work, and throw a double mental strain into the effort, the result will ineviphysical or mental disease. What is true of women as compared with men, is still more true of girle as compared with boys. A more precerious growth of brain power naturally leads, unless very great care is taken, to an equally precocious accession of brain exhaustion. In the second place, the education of girls is governed by less rational principles than that of boys. Generations of schoolmasters have pretty well discovered what boys can advantageously do, and what they can not. Good girls' schools are things of yesterday. Everything about them is still in the experimental stage. Enthusiastic head-mistresses are keenly alive to the amount of lesway there is to make up, and they have not yet learned that an increase of speed which runs the ship upon a rock is only a proof of bad seamanship.

MEDICINAL.

Take Simmons Liver Regulator One Dose

100 Dollars

Dear S. L. R.—Friends: I consider one dose of Simmons Liver Regulator worth $100. I was constipated, had headache, could eat noth-ing with satisfaction or appetite; had the blues and felt altogether out of sorts I resorted to blue mass, calomel, quinine and all remedies sugges ed, but only obtained temporary relief. One dose of S. L. R. did me more good than the $100 worth of doctors and dectoring. Respectfully,

T. C. MARSLEY

I have been a teacher for twenty years, and during that time have had repeated attacks of headache, produced by torpid liver, and I have been entirely cured by the use of Simmons I iver Regulator. I found it to be o' so mild a character in its action as no: to interfere, in the least, with my duties in the school room. To those similarly situated and subject to same, I cannot too highly recommend Simmons Liver Regulator. E.A. CHEEK, Campbellsville, Ky.
